

Anti-Spray Aquarium Airlift Tube Elbow

Abstract

An exit elbow for an aerated aquarium lift tube, designed so that by the combination of a top-most air release baffle and a submerged release jet, that the inevitable water spray from the implosion of aeration bubbles is contained within the exit elbow itself and not released into the atmosphere in the proximity of the tank's water surface or the lighting hood.